

Proquote, the London Stock Exchange's real-time market data and trading terminal, integrates global OTC data provider Tullett Prebon Information

LONDON, 23 October 2007: Proquote, the London Stock Exchange's real-time market data and trading terminal, has signed a data distribution agreement with global OTC data provider, Tullett Prebon Information.

Tullett Prebon Information, a wholly owned subsidiary of inter-dealer broker, Tullett Prebon plc, will deliver a series of data packages covering the global money, rates and fixed income markets to Proquote via their proprietary real time data feed, SURF. The information will be available to Proquote's customers as a series of add-on data packages to Proquote's core offering. The additional data includes Government Bonds; Interest Rate Swaps and Forward Rate Agreements; FX, Non Deliverable Forwards and Cash Deposits; FX Options; Interest Rate Options and Swaptions and Inflation Swaps.

Commenting on the agreement, Karen Young, Head of Business Development Information Services, at the London Stock Exchange said: "This is a high quality service which will offer choice and flexibility to Proquote customers on how they view OTC market data. We believe this strengthens our Treasury and Forex service offering".

Frank Desmond, Head of Tullett Prebon Information for Europe and Asia, says, "We are very pleased that Proquote has selected Tullett Prebon Information's content as a primary source of independent OTC and derivative data. We look forward to working with Proquote as it continues to extend its coverage of key OTC markets."
